What will you remember about MSU?

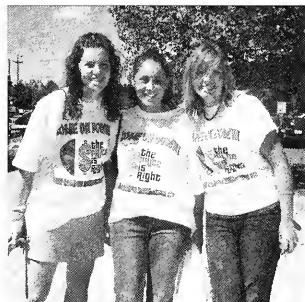

Through the years at Montclair State University, every student has had his or her share of unforgettable moments. Whether it's your involvement in an organization, the special person you met here, or just the everyday hassles of parking and residence life, you've undoubtably gained something from Montclair State University that you will never forget. What comes to your mind when asked 'What will you remember about MSU?'

College Hall

With its Spanish colonial architecture, College Hall is the original building on campus. Built in 1908, College Hall houses just a few classrooms in contrast to the many classrooms it held over ninety years ago.

The bell tower atop this structure remains the icon of MSU.

Student Center

Still home to the many organizations and services of the SGA, the Student Center continues to be the focal point of most student activities. Built in 1972 with the annex added on in 1982, the building also houses a student cafeteria, the bookstore, ballrooms, the C-Store, and the ever-popular Rathskellar. Whether it is 2pm or 2am, the SC is always open for business.

Calcia Hall

Calcia Hall is dedicated to the first chairperson of the Fine Arts Department. Its halls are filled with student artwork. The lawn is covered by sculptures, and the building itself is decorated with sculpted placards, colored tiles and an intricately designed gate, all representative of the creativity and imagination which flows within its walls.

Partridge Hall

Partridge Hall was built in 1969 and renovated in 1994. It is dedicated to E. DeAlton Partridge, the third president of Montclair State. This building contains the School of Business. The first and second floors contain classrooms, computer labs and a lounge. The third and fourth floors house faculty and administrative offices.

Dickson Hall

Dedicated to David W.D. Dickson, the first African-American president of the University, in 1995. This four-story building is the home of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences. It holds departmental offices, a faculty lounge, and the Brant Lecture Hall. Its most popular feature, however, is the Red Hawk Express lunch truck parked outside, where students can run to grab a bite to eat.

Richardson Hall

Dedicated to Thomas H. Richardson, the fourth president of the University, in 1972. This three-story building contains laboratories, offices and classrooms, three computer labs and a learning resource center.

Mallory/Finley Hall

Finley Hall was dedicated to Charles S. Finley, former Dean of Instruction, in 1957. Mallory Hall was dedicated to Virgil Mallory in 1963, former chairperson of the Math Department. Though Mallory's rooms serve students from different majors, Finley's rooms are mostly dedicated to the natural sciences.

Science Hall

The Science Hall, dedicated on September 24, 1999 at the inauguration of President Susan A. Cole, houses the Department of Biology & Molecular Biology, and the Health Careers Program.

The Margaret and Herman Sokol Science Seminar Room is also located in the Science Hall.

McEachern Music Building

Dedicated to Edna McEachern, former chairperson of the Music Department, in 1962. This building features a recital hall, a dozen private practice studios and two orchestral/choir rehearsal rooms. Its locker-lined halls have been noted to resemble those of a high school.

Speech Building

Located next to Memorial Auditorium, this building contains classrooms, offices and studio theatre, which is home to many plays put on by the Theatre department..

Life Hall/Memorial Aud.

Life Hall is the home of the Theatre and Broadcasting departments. It contains dance studios and the Dumont TV Center.

Situated in Life Hall is Memorial Auditorium. Built in 1957, the Auditorium is dedicated to those students and alumni from the University who gave their lives for our country during the war. Memorial Auditorium is a multipurpose theatre with a seating capacity of 1,006, useful stage height, box office and lobby.

Sprague Library

Dedicated in 1963 to Harry A. Sprague, the second president of the University. The geographic center of the campus, the library contains over 1.25 million items including books, periodicals, government documents, microforms, and media and offers access to a variety of electronic resources.

Morehead Hall

Dedicated to Allan C. Morehead, an alumnus and former professor, executive vice president and provost at the University. Used as a demonstration high school from 1929 to 1973, it is now the Academic Success Center.

Gilbreth House

Dedicated to Lillian Gilbreth, an efficiency expert in the field of engineering, in 1981. Gilbreth Hall is the home of Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) and helps students every day.

Kasser Theater

The 500-seat Alexander Kasser Theater Building is four stories high and approximately 55,000 gross square feet. It is a multi-use facility for performances of drama, musical theater, dance, orchestral concerts, solo recitals and chamber opera. The facility also includes administrative space, offices, storage and support space.

Chapin Hall

Dedicated to the first president of the University, Charles S. Chapin, in 1928, it is one of the original buildings of the Montclair Normal School. This former residence hall was completely renovated in 1974 and is now an academic building.

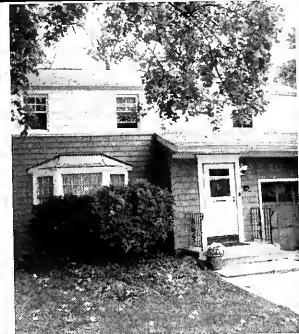

Panzer Gymnasium

Once the Panzer College of Physical Education and Hygiene, Panzer Gym was dedicated to Henry Panzer, the Swiss-born gymnast, in 1958. It houses classrooms for physical education majors and many gyms and a swimming pool, as well as a fitness room for student use. The football field can be found directly behind the gym.

Alumni House

The Alumni House is the place for MSU Alumni Association activities. It also maintains a full set of yearbooks.

Global Education Center

Established in 1991, the Global Education Center consolidates Montclair State University's international activities and programs. The Center administers study abroad, student and faculty exchanges, institutional linkages, international collaborations and much more.

Construction and Engineering Services

Architectural and Engineering Services is located here. The department is focused on construction and planning, within the Division of Business and Finance.

IAPC

Alderdice House is the home of the Institute for the Advancement of Philosophy for Children. The Institute is the International Headquarters of the world-famous elementary/secondary school curriculum..

Bond House

The Bond House is the location of the Development Office and the Vice President of Institutional Advancement. The Van Riper/Bond House was built in 1872. It is a three story victorian building originally built as a private home.

Children's Center

The Children's Center is one of the newest buildings on campus. It is a model of excellence in the inclusive early care and education of children from birth to six years. It also provides a lot of job opportunities for students.

Drop-In Center

The Drop-In Center is a great place for students to stop in at any time of the day. Not only do they have peer-counseling, but they also provide stress relief classes.

Freeman Hall

Dedicated to Grace Freeman, an alumna and a member of the State Assembly, in 1963. It is obviously from the '60s when you its brightly colored panels in the windows. Freeman has seven floors and also has a cafeteria.

Russ Hall

Dedicated to Edward Russ, former member of the State Board of Education, in 1914. It was originally built to be a residence hall, though later made an office building. In 97-98, it was returned to its roots and is once again a living establishment. Russ is also the home of Kops Lounge and the office of Undergraduate Admissions

Stone Hall

Dedicated to John C. Stone, former mathematics chairperson and author, in 1955. Stone was originally the male-only residence hall on campus, but has been co-ed since 1993. It has served as a residence hall for more years than any other on campus.

Blanton Hall

Dedicated to Lawton W. Blanton, Jr., former dean of students, in 1982. Created with a 'mall' atmosphere, or a jail depending on how you look at it. Blanton features an atrium with a cafeteria, glass elevators, air conditioning, spacious lounges and quiet study rooms.

Bohn Hall

Dedicated to Harold C. Bohn, former chairperson of the English Department, in 1972. This high-rise co-ed dormitory houses 600 students, within 16 floors. Bohn was originally an all females residence hall. Bohn Hall is also home to the Office of Residence Life and has a beautiful view of NYC.

Webster Hall

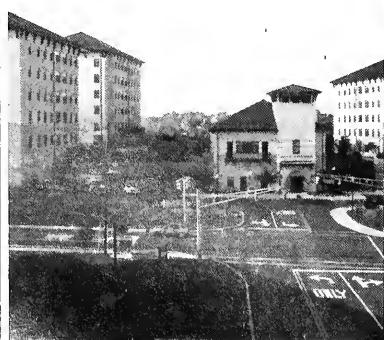

Dedicated to Edward H. Webster, former chairperson of the English Department, in 1962. Webster is the only single-sexed residence hall on campus housing about 100 women. One of the great things about Webster is the balconies on the second and third floors.

Clove Road Apartments

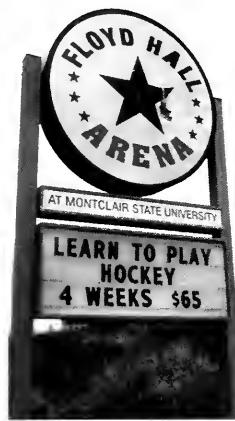

Originally built only for temporary housing, the Clove Road apartments are still standing, and still lived in, approximately twenty-five years later. These apartments are favored by many of its residents. It also has the perks of your own kitchen, living room and bath tub.

The Village at Little Falls

The Village at Little Falls is an apartment-style complex that consists of four residential buildings and a recreational/office building that contains a police substation. Some things that the Village offers to upper-class students are a half basketball court, an outdoor pool and a fitness center. But probably the most important amenity is the dishwasher.

Floyd Hall Arena

Floyd Hall Arena is the skating rink on campus that has not one, but two skating rinks. Both rinks are open to the MSU community and the public during certain times. The Arena is the home to many league hockey teams, as well as the Red Hawk Ice Hockey team. Clinics and instructional programs are also offered for anyone who wants to learn hockey and/or figure skating.

Yogi Berra Museum/Stadium

The Yogi Berra Stadium is located next to the Yogi Berra Museum which is home to a collection of memorabilia and special exhibits. The Stadium is home to the New Jersey Jackals minor league baseball team. The stadium seats over 3,100 with room for an additional 4,000 lawn seating.

Red Hawk

Parking Deck

This parking deck is located next to the Kasser theater. Although it is more expensive then surface lots your car can never get snowed in.

The University Police Dept. is an autonomous, fully certified and operational law enforcement agency that serves New Jersey's second largest and fastest growing university.

University Police

NJ Transit

Parking Deck

The NJ Transit Deck is where all freshman now have to park, no matter whether they are commuter or resident. It is located across from the Village.

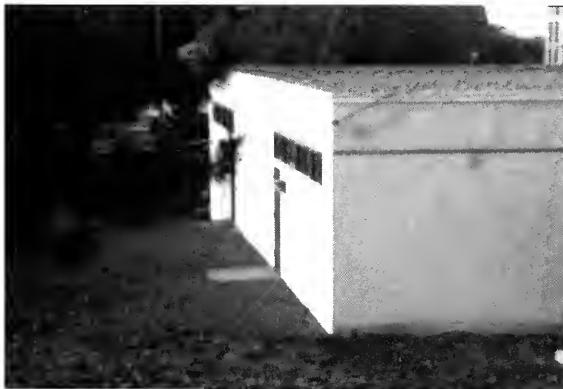

The Red Hawk Diner is just that, a diner. Open twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week (it is debatable how true that is), they make some good milkshakes. The Diner is located across from the SC.

Red Hawk Diner

Field House

The field house contains two saunas, two exercise rooms with free weights and universal gym equipment, lockers and showers. This building is a support facility for the softball, track and multipurpose fields.

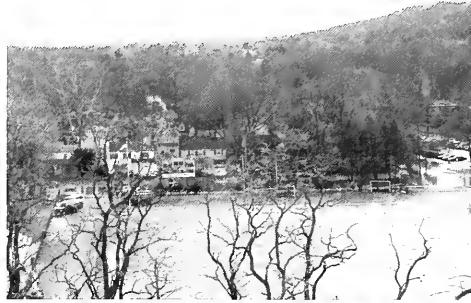

The Montclair State women's soccer team plays its seasons with its entire home schedule at the 1,100-seat MSU Soccer Park at Pittser Field which was opened in 1998.

MSU Soccer Park at Pittser Field

Sprague Field

The 6,000-seat field is home to the MSU football team, women's soccer and field hockey teams. With its astro-turf grass and stadium lights it is a great place for a game.

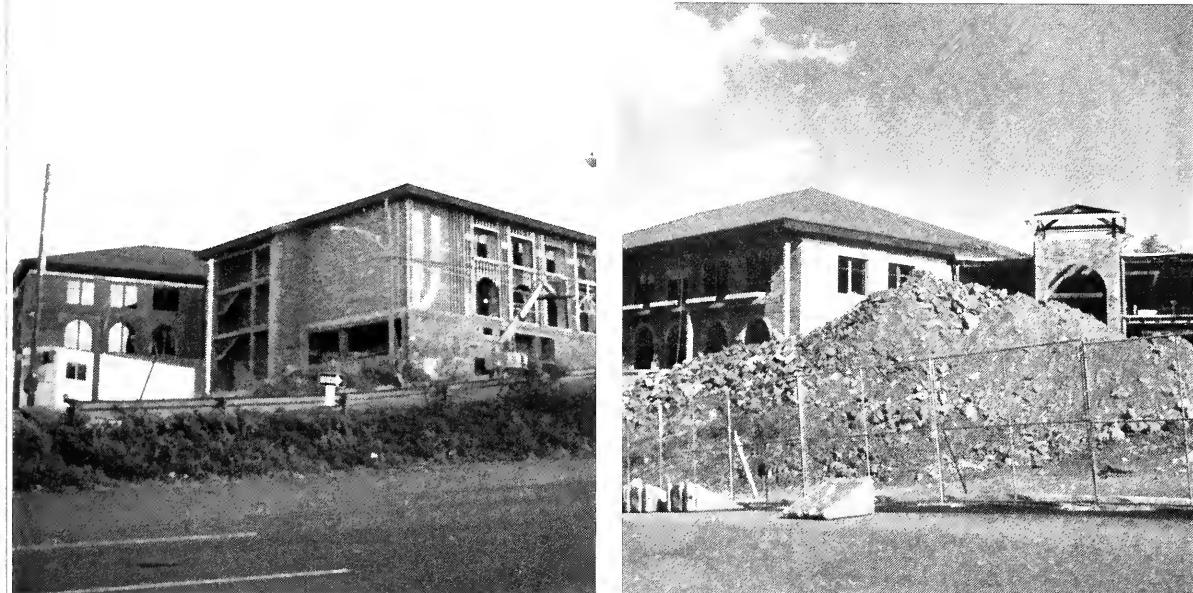

Women's Softball Stadium

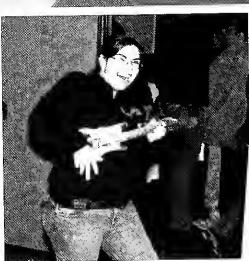

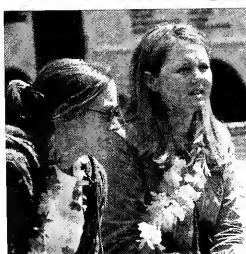

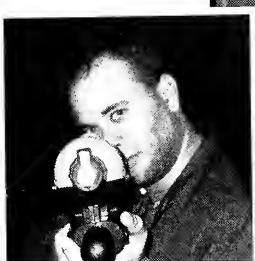

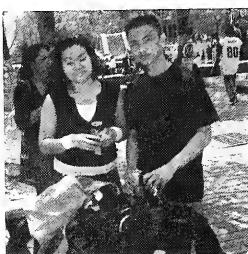

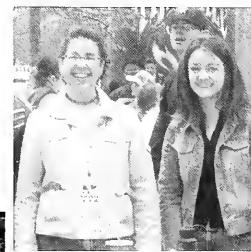

The stadium holds approximately 260 seats made up bleacher type and stadium molded seats. The stadium also contains a press box, locker rooms, toilets, storage and concession area.

Student Recreation Center

Construction is underway of the new 76,951-square-foot Student Recreation Center, located on the northeast end of the main campus. The Center will feature a six-lane swimming pool, locker rooms, two-court gymnasium with elevated running track, two racquetball courts, strength and cardio training areas, offices and a café. The two main buildings will be constructed with reinforced concrete and structural steel, and designed in the campus' Spanish-mission style architecture. The buildings will be connected via a glazed curtain wall entry space with terrazzo floors and a monumental staircase.

The crack of the bat as it connects with its round target. The clang of the rim just before the basketball swished home. The patter of the feet of the runner trying to pass the leader as the pack rounds the last corner of the race. The grunt of the athlete as he pins his opponent to the mat for the victory. The roar of the crowd in triumph...or the silence that accompanies the agony of defeat.

Nothing has the ability to unite a campus the way sports do.

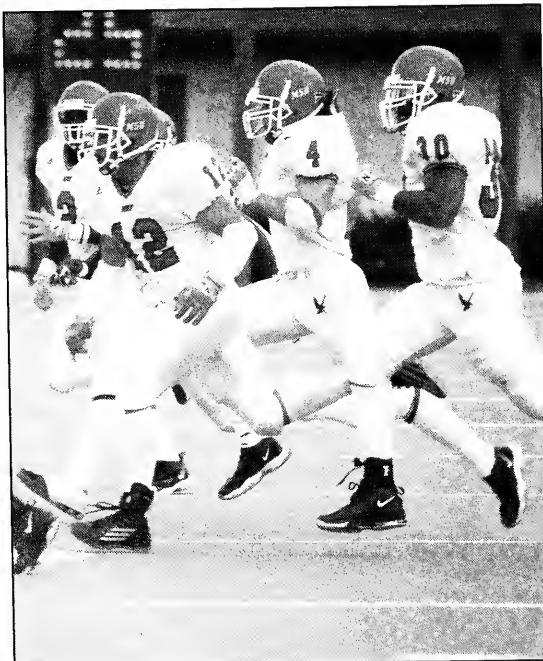

S P O R T S

For proof of the excitement that sports can create, one need only to attend the Homecoming football game. The stands are almost completely packed, and a wave of excitement can be felt throughout the game.

The athletes of MSU share common traits: dedication, school spirit, and the competitive drive. These students willingly promote the name of Montclair State throughout the region, while simultaneously unifying the campus.

La Campana now proudly presents the athletes of Montclair State.

The Montclair State football team had 15 players selected, including eight First-Team honorees as the New Jersey Athletic Conference announced its 2005 All-Conference Team.

Backfield mates Ryan McCoach and Vin Varcadipane were named on the offensive side of the ball along with tight end Rob Domke. Defensively, seniors Morgan Burklow and Troy Bishop were chosen along with lineman Derrell Sapp. Kicker Vin Doffont and returner Jared Greenberg were named to the special teams unit.

Senior offensive lineman Karim Faris was chosen Second-Team along with linebacker Sal Fama and cornerback Derrick Simmons. Quarterback Eric Ferriol, offensive lineman Kevin Michel, wide receiver Brian Reitmeyer and linebacker Fred DeFinis were chosen Honorable Mention.

Cheerleading

The Cheerleaders of Montclair State University are an animated, enthusiastic squad of approximately 24 girls that cheer at football games, basketball games, competitions and special events for the university. These dedicated students represent the school while displaying spirit, leadership, and strength.

MSU Cheerleading is part of Campus Recreation under the division Intramurals and Activities.

Women's Soccer

Senior forward Jess Amendola and junior defender Justin Barbato were named First Team as the New Jersey Athletic Conference announced its All-Conference Team. MSU had six players on the 41-player squad.

Amendola and Barbato were joined by senior Kaylan Van Brookhoven and freshman Nicole Kogut, who were both named Second Team. Juniors Dara Nalven and Kristin Kuhmann were named Honorable Mention.

As freshmen, we were often told that there is a place for everyone at Montclair State. Whether the group is politically, socially, religiously, or professionally based, many of us have taken part in the activities of at least one organization chartered on campus. For some of us, it may have been a Greek organization; for others, it may have been a culturally- or religiously-based organization. Regardless of the type of organization it may have been, many of us found a source of experience, learning, and fun in being a part of the organization of our choice.

The organizations at Montclair State, though, do not merely benefit their members. Rather, the organizations at MSU add much to the campus. The campus life that currently exists is owed, in large part, to the organizations that we have. Nearly all of the events held on-campus and many of those held off-campus are sponsored by these student organizations.

Everything from Homecoming to Spring Bash, philanthropy projects to parties, karaoke nights to concerts, are held because of the efforts of the student organizations found here. The members of these organizations give much of their time, effort, and talents for the benefit of their fellow students, all without any reward except the sense of accomplishment they feel for a job well done. Without their under-appreciated efforts, our campus would be a much more boring place. In addition, without the organizations themselves, those students would be much less stressed, but would also have fewer fond memories and less hands-on experience from their college years.

In observance of the positive impact that these organizations and their members have on the campus, and of the benefits they offer to the individual students of Montclair State, La Campana offers this salute to our student organizations.

Haitian Student Association

Chartered in 1991, the Haitian Student Association started by helping make students of Haitian descent feel more welcomed at Montclair. HSA received the SGA's Class III of the year award in 2002-2003, and the Class II of the year award in 2003-2004. Recently, HSA has been rechartered as a Class I Organization of the SGA for the 2005-2006 academic year. They are proud to work towards their mission: to educate the campus community on issues affecting Haiti, to offer a taste of the historically rich Haitian culture, while simultaneously providing great programming for the entire campus community.

2006

When all the papers are done, when all the studying is finished, it's time to let off a little steam. At Montclair State University, no other aspect of Student Life fits this criteria as well as Greek Life. Whether it's a party or just hanging out with "brothers" or "sisters", Greek Life is an integral part of the social atmosphere here at MSU.

Ranging in purpose from academic to social, Greek organizations at Montclair State have given back to the University like no other facet of Student life. Through their many philanthropic activities, Greeks have endeavored to give back to the community, aiding in the growth of both their own members and the campus at large. The Professional

CLASS IV

Subhouse of Greek Council has helped students on their quest for a promising future. And the cultural diversity displayed by the organizations has enriched the lives of nearly every student at MSU. But perhaps most importantly, Greek organizations promote leadership and individual growth like no other organization.

But what do we remember about Greek Life? Any student who managed to miss all the parties should never forgive himself. Then there are the more traditional memories of Greek Life: Greek Week, Homecoming, and Cotillion, to name a few. And who could ever forget the varying forms of pledging that both entertained us and kept us up ALL night?

Greek Life will always be a mainstay at Montclair State University. The friendships made have forever changed the lives of their members.

Leaders in the service of Montclair State University:

SDNTELL

The parties, the debates with other students, the quiet cramming in a corner of the third floor of the Student Center. To each of us, Student Life takes on a different meaning. Whatever it may or may not mean to you, though, it remains a major part of the college experience. As is often said, much more is learned outside of the classroom than within its confines. And that learning, that intrinsic part of the educational experience, is what we know as "student life."

To put a face or name or even description to the words "student life" is nearly impossible because it means so many different things to everyone of us. For some of us, the Student Government elections are a basic part of the college experience; for others, it is the laughter shared on the steps of the Student Center. And for nearly all of us, it is altering our walking patterns to avoid an ever-growing area of construction, which has come to be a part of the essence and identity of Montclair State University.

Hopefully, though, "student life" will remind each of us of the best memories of our college experience. After all, who among us really wants to remember that boring general education class that we wished we didn't need to take in order to graduate? And who among us wouldn't want to remember the fun we had with one another, be it through that enlightening discussion about Nietzsche in our Philosophy study group or dancing the night away with our closest friends?

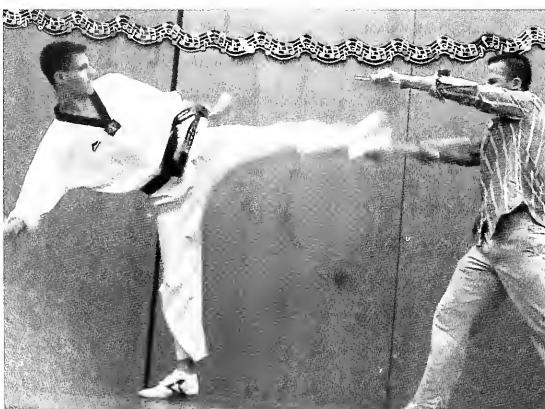

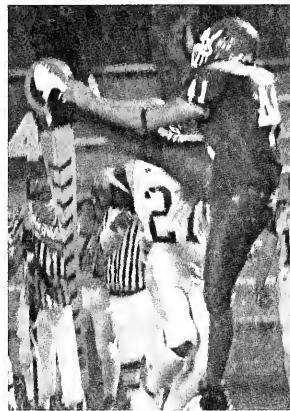

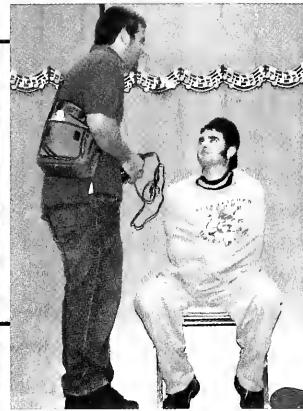

College would be a much less rich experience were it not for the excitement of the college campus, that thrill of learning, and the energy of being young - or at least, young at heart. And that is what we at La Campana hope we can recreate on these humble pages.

SGA Executive Board 2005-2006

A message from your SGA President Angelo Lilla

The summer before freshman year, we walked onto campus for orientation. We met the Peer Leaders and learned about what the campus had to offer. September came and the semester was started in high spirits. We all witnessed many changes like The Village at Little Falls, the Red Hawk Deck, Kasser Theater, NJ Transit Train Station and Deck, The Children's Center, and finally University Hall. As the MSU expanded, so did we as individuals. We were taught new ideas and concepts and faced many challenges that would strengthen us. We were given the opportunity to think outside of the box. We fought closed classes, parking tickets, and beating the gusty winds as we walked to class. As we leave the campus, we also will leave our mark as the Class of 2006. Now it's time to show the world what we can do and who we have become.

Congratulations, Class of 2006!

Best of luck in all of your future endeavors.

I Remember When...

2005

SENIORS 2006!

After four, or five, or six, or however many years, we all look forward to the day when our college career is finally completed. Looking forward to our careers, while looking back on the memories, experience, and education that we received during our college years, we find ourselves with a mixture of emotions. While no doubt glad to be free of the debt and pressure that college brings, and while looking forward to our careers or our future endeavors into higher education, we usually reflect on the life we are giving up. The parties, the ability to forego the responsibilities of the real world, the pleasure of working with thousands of people who seek the same things we seek, and all of the other aspects of college life, will soon be gone from our lives. In its place, we feel a sense of accomplishment for achieving our diploma, we experience the joy of being educated, and we possess the ability to work in our chosen profession, whatever that may be.

For a growing number of us, college was not merely a matter of relaxing, going to classes for fifteen hours a week, and not doing much else. Instead, we faced challenges from our personal lives, from our jobs, and from any other activities in which we participated during our college years. These obstacles, though, did not stop us. Instead, they made us stronger people, ready to face the challenges of life. These hurdles became part of our college experience, and part of the learning we achieved as students at Montclair State.

Regardless of how we spent our college years, or the path taken to reach the goal of graduation, we now can look back on our accomplishments, and look ahead to our futures. In honor of the glory of our past and the richness of our futures, La Campana proudly presents the Class of 2006.

winter time outside Life Hall. It's not about what happens to you in life.*

It's about what you do after it happens.

- Joshua Breekman,

B.S. Business Administration w/
258 conc. in Finance c/o 2006

I will always remember Tim Herman and Jane Peterson - without them, I probably wouldn't have truly learned anything.

*- Tracie Gerardi,
B.A. Theatre Studies c/o 2006*

I will always remember late night dance practices with UAASO. Sunday nights at Six Brothers Diner with Phi Sigma Pi. Homecoming float building in the rain 2 years in a row, and fun times with the roomies in Williams Hall.

Wrestling Team Protest

When the University cut the Wrestling Team for a second year in a row, the students of MSU banded together to give the men the support they needed to show the administration what the students wanted.

On April 11, 2006
Harry and the Potters came to Montclair
State University.

The idea is that the
Harry Potter from Year
7 and the Harry Potter from Year 4 started a rock band. And now, no one can stop the wizard rock!

Who could forget that?

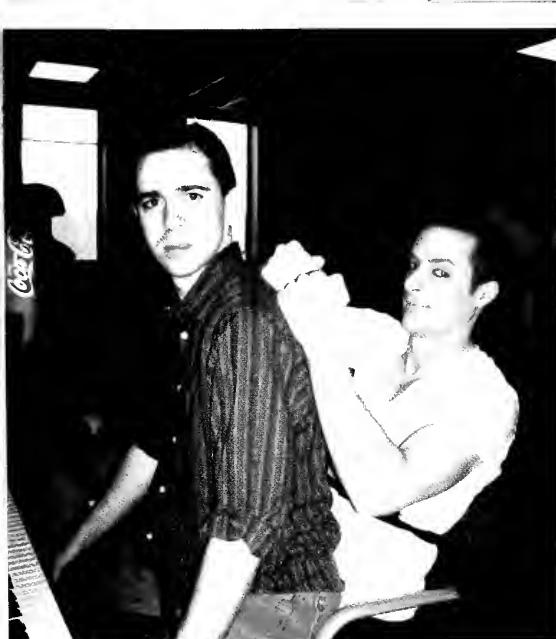

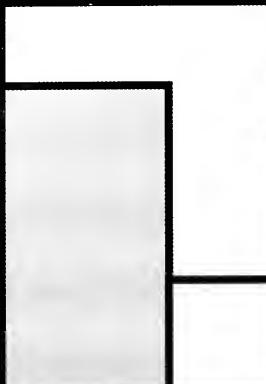

Parade

The Department of Theatre and Dance made their debuting mark in the Kasser Theater with an astounding production of the musical Parade. The cast and crew were phenomenal!

Carpe Oien!

Farewell to the Class of 2006!
And remember....

Seize the Day!

La Campana

La Campana is the oldest publication found on the campus of Montclair State. Tracing its roots to the days when our University was merely Montclair Normal School, La Campana has portrayed the campus for generations. Its name meaning "The Bell" in Spanish, the yearbook has symbolized Montclair State just as the Spanish-architecture and bell of College Hall have represented the college since its inception.

Throughout the year our staff has remained small, but with this small group and much determination we have done our job. We are eagerly looking forward to the upcoming year (years for some) and producing the next book. It is a long and tedious process at times but in the end, when we get to see the product of our time and effort, somehow it is all worth it.

Jamie B. Dresher, Co-Editor-in-Chief

The Staff of La Campana would like to extend our most heartfelt congratulations to the Class of 2006. After four (or more) long years of hard work, you've finally made it! Best of luck in all your future endeavors,

- The Staff of La Campana

La Campana

What will you remember about your times here at MSU? How could anyone forget the parking or construction? I don't think those events will be as unforgettable as the friendships we have created on this temporary homebase. MSU was a place to meet many new people, whether it be in class, studying in a lounge, or living down the hall. The experiences and fun we had with friends will live as we remember our college experience. The late night study groups, trips to the Ratt, and long walks across campus may highlight some of the usual or things we did. But there is nothing mundane about walking across campus. We are only here for a short time - so enjoy the time you have with whatever comes next. Enjoy everything you do, even if it is a simple walk. You don't know when you will be on that path again because sooner or later we travel on. Best Wishes Class of 2006!

Amy Chicken, Co-Editor-in-Chief

Colophon

La Campana would like to thank the following people for their help in the publication of this book:

Jostens Publishing, Tim McGovern our Jostens Representative, Jim Carroll, and the staff at Lors Photography

Hayden Greene, Julie Fleming, The Montclarion, The Student Government Association

Michael Peters our university photographer, the MSU Administration

The Staff of the 2006 yearbook: Jamie Dresher, Amy Chicken, Laura Hutcheon, George Melcas, Anthony Guttilla, Krystal Woolston, Marissa Cassidy, Magdalena Legutko

Jostens Printing and Publishing Division, which is located in State College, Pennsylvania, printed the 2006 edition of La Campana, the yearbook of Montclair State University. There were 2,600 copies printed of the 2006 yearbook with 280 pages in each book.
